Butterfield Canyon 7th Ward

March 28th

All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all

He hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

Isaiah 53:2-6

Home Study: Come Follow Me - Doctrine and Covenants

March 29 - April 4 "I Am He Who Liveth, I Am He Who Was Slain"

EASTER Pg57 - 60; Doctrine & Covenants 76: 110;

April 3, 1836 was Easter Sunday. After helping administer the sacrament in the newly dedicated Kirtland Temple, Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery found a quiet place behind a veil in the temple and bowed in silent prayer. Then, on this sacred day when Christians everywhere were commemorating the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, the risen Savior Himself appeared in His temple, declaring, "I am he who liveth, I am he who was slain".

This doesn't just mean that He rose from the tomb on the third day and appeared to His Galilean disciples. It means that He lives today. He speaks through prophets today. He leads His Church today. He heals wounded souls and broken hearts today.

So today we can echo the words of Joseph Smith's powerful testimony: "After the many testimonies which have been given of him, this is the testimony . . . which we give of him: That he lives!". We can hear His voice in these revelations. We can witness His hand in our lives. And we can each feel "the joy this sentence gives: 'I know that my Redeemer lives!'" CFM-IF
