And it came to pass that there was no contention in the land, because of the love of God which did dwell in the hearts of the people. And there were no envyings, nor strifes, nor tumults, nor whoredoms, nor lyings, nor murders, nor any manner of lasciviousness; and surely there could not be a happier people among all the people who had been created by the hand of God.

Come Follow Me - Old Testament: February 28 - March 6th

"Surely the Lord Is in this Place" p43; Genesis 28 - 33;

Genesis 28 and 32 tell of spiritual experiences that the prophet Jacob had in the wilderness. In the first experience, Jacob was traveling to his mother's homeland to find a wife, and along the way, spent the night on a pillow of stones. He may not have expected to find the Lord in such a desolate place, but God revealed Himself to Jacob in a life-changing dream, and Jacob declared, "Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not".

Years later, Jacob found himself in the wilderness again, facing a potentially deadly reunion with his angry brother, Esau. But Jacob knew that when he needed a blessing, he could seek the Lord, even in the wilderness

You may find yourself in your own wilderness seeking a blessing from God. Maybe your wilderness is a difficult family relationship, such as Jacob had. Maybe you feel distant from God or feel that you need a blessing. Sometimes the blessing comes unexpectedly; other times it is preceded by a wrestle. Whatever your need, you can discover that even in your wilderness, "the Lord is in this place." CFM-IF
