Come Follow Me - Old Testament: August 29 - Sept 4

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom", Page 158

Psalms 102 - 103; 110; 116 - 119; 127 - 128; 135 - 139; 146 - 150

In the first chapter of the book of Proverbs, we find these words: "My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother" (Proverbs 1:8). Proverbs can be seen as a collection of wise sayings from a loving parent, whose main message is that blessings of peace and prosperity come to those who seek wisdom—particularly the kind of wisdom God offers. But Proverbs is followed by the book of Ecclesiastes, which seems to say, "It's not that simple." The Preacher quoted in Ecclesiastes observed that he "gave [his] heart to know wisdom" but still found "vexation of spirit" and "much grief" (Ecclesiastes 1:17–18). In a variety of ways, the book asks, "Can there be real meaning in a world where everything seems vain, temporary, and uncertain?"

And yet, while the two books look at life from different perspectives, they teach similar truths. Ecclesiastes declares: "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man" (Ecclesiastes 12:13). This is the same principle found throughout Proverbs: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart....Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord" (Proverbs 3:5, 7). No matter what life holds, even when it seems confusing and random, it is always better when we trust in the Lord Jesus Christ.
