"CONTINUE YE IN MY LOVE"

Page 93

John 14 - 17

Today we call it the "Last Supper," but we don't know if Jesus's disciples fully realized, when they gathered for the annual Passover feast, that this would be their last meal with their Master before His death. Jesus, however, "knew that his hour was come" (John 13:1). He would soon face the suffering of Gethsemane, the betrayal and denial of His closest friends, and an agonizing death on the cross. Yet even with all of this looming before Him, Jesus's focus was not on Himself but on His disciples. What would they need to know in the days and years ahead? Jesus's tender teachings in John 14-17 reveal how He feels about His disciples, then and now. Among the many comforting truths He shared was the reassurance that, in one sense, He will never leave us. "If ye keep my commandments," He promised, "ye shall abide in my love" (John 15:10).
